

Brethren,

Spring has arrived and we must think, with awe and adoration, of the awakening of the floral and creature life in this hemisphere that we share. This brings to mind a question, one of the brethren had about the bugle call "Reveille." The name comes from the French for "wake up." "Reveille" first originated in the Middle Ages as a wake-up call for soldiers, after the song was played, another called The Rouse would be played, telling soldiers to get out of bed.

In modern times the U.S. Military plays (sounds) "Reveille" at 06:30 (05:30 on Marine Corps bases, 07:30 on Air Force bases).

Although there are no official lyrics to "Reveille" here are some popularized in the U.S.

| I can't get 'em up,              | The corporal's worse than the privates,  |
| I can't get 'em up,              | The sergeant's worse than the corporals, |
| I can't get 'em up this morning; | Lieutenant's worse than the sergeants,   |
| I can't get 'em up,              | And the captain's worse of all!          |
| I can't get 'em up,              | < repeat first six lines >               |
| I can't get 'em up at all!       |  |

Fraternally,
