Dear Brethren:

"History of Freemasonry"

While reading the "History of Freemasonry in New Jersey", it was interesting to note that there has always been ups and downs in masonry, as in every organization. Some people do not study history because it may not be that interesting to them. Consider this fact brethren: We are all a part of history, every moment we live. We have a definite part and place in making history, and then we become a part of it by our passing.

History teaches many valuable lessons to us if we only pay due attention to it. Haven't we all said "If I knew then what I know now, I would have done it differently?"

We should never live in the past brethren, look back on the past as a lesson and apply it to the present and the future.

Let's live our Masonry in our daily lives so that we can be proud of the history that we make for ourselves.

In every situation, there is a way to control the outcome to a certain extent. Let's be sure that we can control events and not let events control us. Do what you can to practice brotherly love, keep faith, hope and charity in your thoughts and actions and I'm sure they will help build a history that you will be proud of and enjoy as time passes.

See you in lodge brethren, Let's make history together.

Fraternally,

MARVIN WHITE, Worshipful Master
