"We will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever"

Micah 4:5(ASC)

Years ago I spent some time in Alaska. One of the things I liked to do most was take walks and enjoy the magnificent scenery. On one such occasion, I started such a walk without the slightest thought of any problems. Suddenly the wind shifted, the temperature fell, and it began to snow. In a very short time I became disoriented and completely lost.

A map would be useless; what I needed was guidance and a sense of direction. The compass I usually carried was back at base, not expecting any difficulty on a simple familiar walk.

Eventually I found my way back. Reflecting on my experience, I saw my treatment of my compass as comparable to my sometimes reliance upon God.

It is all too easy to ignore the importance of God and our ever-present need for Him when things are going well. When we ignore or forget Him, we lose direction — that direction that can keep us from getting lost in the first place.

Faternally,

Howard J. Young, Worshipful Master
