My Brother,

Take a few moments this month and reflect on all that you have seen occur in the world during your lifetime. The advances made during our lifetime and this century are staggering, like no other generation or era. The advances in medicines, computers, and other newly developed technology seek to provide a better standard of living and security for future generations.

With all of these advances, I often find it disheartening, unbelievable, and difficult to watch the nightly news. The news shows us how quickly the tremendous effort to improve the quality of life can be so rapidly ravished by a few individuals.

When I was a child in school, and studied the devastation of war in history classes, I learned dates and locations. In the mind of a child, there is no way to comprehend the cold, cruel realities of war. Nor is there a way to believe that any human could commit the atrocities of the concentration camps. I defensively reacted by believing that things were not as bad as they were described, and that it could not be repeated.

This worked for a while, but the images of Kosovo are too vivid and familiar. It astonishes me that we are presently witnessing these events with all the advances we have made in civilization and with all that we have learned during this century.

Since the beginning of our nation, the United States has stood firm in its commitment to universal human rights. Our forefathers were Freemasons and instilled in our country the principles of our fraternity, which "induces us to regard the whole human species, the high and the low, the rich and the poor, as one family, who, created by one Almighty Parent, should aid, support and protect one another". This is the great aim we have in view, and is the underlying principle of our involvement in Kosovo. While our servicemen and woman risk their lives to aid, support and protect the people of Kosovo who continue to face a brutal annihilation, we must do all that we can to support them.

One way to support those servicemen and woman, is to honor the memory of our men and woman who gave of themselves and paid the ultimate sacrifice for us all. Memorial Day is May 31st and our Grand Master has scheduled an official visit for our parade. Please take a few hours of your day to come and support your lodge, your country, and the men and woman who protect us. But more importantly, come and honor the ones who went above and beyond their call of duty, and sacrificed their lives to preserve ours.

Fraternally,
Brian N. Myers
