

Brethren

What is needed today more than at any other time is tolerance. Here in a Masonic lodge we have brothers of many vocations and back ground. Some are raised to be kind to one another. Some are raised to be in control of others. It's tolerance that enables us to be able to work and enjoy each others company. It's when we forget this that disruption enters the lodge room. We are all different. Let us learn to enjoy each other so that peace and harmony may rein.

— The Table Lodge —

The civilized people of the world have ever cherished family feasts; Christmas, New Years, and in this country, Thanksgiving Day. These gatherings are more than mere opportunities to eat; they are spiritual solidifications of family ties, opportunities for mutual family rejoicing.

Most American lodges are familiar with the "fourth degree" when members gather in the dining hall following the meeting, to enjoy collation. They are familiar with the Masonic banquet, which provides an elaborate meal, followed by a speaker, or some other form of entertainment.

The feast, as a function or ceremonial occasion is very, very old. The Lodge feast carries out, in Masonry, a custom which was old when the pyramids were built. From this ancient custom, in which brethren broke bread together and drank in common, came the Table Lodge of the late 17th and early 18th century.

A Table Lodge is not only a banquet with entertainment, but rather a special lodge ceremony in itself, with ritual, formalities, and a special terminology which is interesting indeed.

The arrangement of the tables, in a tiled banquet hall, where only Masons are admitted, is enough, in itself, to testify to the Masonic interests and connection of this unique affair.
