

Dear Brother:

As we come "off refreshment" of the summer months, we think about returning to our labors of Masonry

Why Masonry does not have the same appeal as the multitude of channels available of a satellite dish or cable TV, it does not require electricity but is self-propelled. It is the individual interacting with individual contributing to the man, the Mason, the lodge that created our Fraternity and remains our duty for the next generation. This next generation can refer to the next month's candidates, the next Worshipful Master, officer or active member not just the future generations.

Besides the degree work, every member should feel the need to "improve himself in Masonry" whether he does this through his active participation, listening to new thoughts and ideas of a guest speaker or everyday actions.

If you can answer yes to any of the three in the above paragraph, you are helping the Fraternity and yourself continue to improve.

Fraternally,
Bruce Ferguson
Worshipful Master
